- Historical criticism: This method examines a literary text in its historical context, considering the author's life and times.
- Cultural criticism: This method explores the ways in which a literary text reflects the values and beliefs of its culture.
- Psychoanalytic criticism: This method uses psychoanalytic theory to interpret the unconscious meanings of a literary text.
- Feminist criticism: This method examines the ways in which a literary text reflects the experiences of women.
- New Historicist criticism: This method examines the relationship between a literary text and its historical context, considering the ways in which the text shapes and is shaped by its time.

The book also includes a number of case studies that demonstrate how to apply these methods to specific literary texts. These case studies provide students with a valuable opportunity to see how literary criticism works in practice.
